

minecraft website!

creative director → katie zhu

designer → sophie leong

updates

- love the look of mockup B, especially the book elements!
 - idea → have the books scroll or swipe to a different page for more information
- really love what you did with the home page
- would prefer the style of the "characters" page from mockup a where the content isn't in a straight line
 - idea → maybe you click on character and then the info pops up?
- menu / navigation bar instead of the block navigation
 - although i love the creativity with it
- when coding the site, keep in mind of size
 - on the mockups, i think the text size might be a bit big for a whole desktop
- we talked about you making some of your own copy, specifically with the "development" page which i am okay with!
- overall, amazing!! keep up with the great work and do whatever is most comfortable with you
